SCHWARTZ, Johann Christian
August

Hildesheim 1756 – Braunschweig 7.III.1814

Schwartz, or Schwarz, pastellist working in Braunschweig, Dresden, Hamburg and Berlin, exhibiting at the Berlin Akademie in 1800. Although nothing is known of his training, he was evidently close to Schröder (Chodowiecki, who did not like Schröder, wrote to Graff in 1795: "Es befindet sich ein neuen Pastel Mahler aus Braunschweig hier nicht so gut, wie Schröder, er heißt Schwartz"), and the attribution of works between them is complicated by the number of pastels signed by Schwartz which are versions of works by Schröder; many confusions persist. His daughter Dorothea, Frau Professor Zimmer (q.v.), was also a miniaturist and pastellist.
